HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Lieut. Max Gillilan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gillilan of St. Johnsbury, has been cited for gallantry in war service.

Miss Evelyn Rivers of Ware, Mass., and Herbert Bulger of St. Albans were married at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church in Ware June 3.

The Congregational church at upper Waterford was re-dedicated last week. The building had been thoroughly repaired and many improvements made.

Lieut. Hugh H. Hanrahan, a Rutland physician, has been ordered to report for duty at Camp Jackson, S. C. He will leave his practice to the care of his father, Dr. John D. Hanrahan.

Community canning will be a feature of the war work which Brattleboro will undertake this summer, and Miss Lucy Swift of Middlesex, home demonstrator for Windham county, will be in charge.

Harold Handy, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Handy of Springfield, has received an appointment from Senator W. P. Dillingham to the military academy at West Point, where he will report June 14.

At the end of the present term, the teaching of German is to be abolished in the Rutland schools, the school board taking action on a petition to that effect, which was signed by 90 citizens.

John Walker, president of the Vermont Milk Chocolate company of Burlington, estimates that a year will be required to replace the factory that was destroyed by fire a few months ago.

P. L. Culver, formerly ticket agent at Burlington, is now located in St. Albans, where he will have his headquarters, having been appointed traveling auditor for the Central Vermont Railway company.

Burtis Brassaw, the trusty at the house of correction, who escaped with Leo Labonte, also imprisoned there, was caught at Ferrisburg, but his companion is still at large. Brassaw was with the thief and Labonte for burglary.

Fred Hoffman, a resident of Wheelock and a former assistant judge of Calcutta county, was married to Mrs. Estelle Hutchinson Goss, also of Wheelock, at St. Johnsbury, May 29. Judge and Mrs. Hoffman left at once for Portland, Ore.

Joseph Lawrence of Grand Isle, who attempted to commit suicide at Camp Devens May 28, is in a critical condition and his father and fiancée, Miss Tassie, have gone to him. Temporary insanity is believed to have been the cause of his act.

Men in several departments in the Howe Scale works in Rutland have asked for an increase in wages. It is understood that in some branches $1 a day extra is demanded. The men fix upon June 10 as the time when they expect an answer. There was an increase in wages in some of the departments at the plant about six months ago.

The University of Vermont farm-stations, numbering ten, who are located on the estate of Rudyard Kipling at Brattleboro, at present are engaged in sowing up the turf and grass around 500 apple trees and have charge of the grounds, garden, poultry, etc. There are 400 acres to be hayed this summer in which they will assist.

The class of 1918 of the Mary Fletcher hospital training school for nurses graduated Saturday evening. There were 13 members of the class, one of whom is already serving her country as a military nurse, and three more of whom will enter either the army or navy corps as nurses. Another one is already under appointment as a Red Cross nurse. The Mary Fletcher training school has a service flag bearing 22 stars.

After she had received word that her husband, Lieut. Eben Bull, had arrived safely overseas, his wife, who was staying at Fair Haven during his absence, received word that he was dead in Hoboken, N. J. There was much mystery at first over the affair, until it was learned that the notice of his safe arrival was given on the customary postcard, mailed in this country as soon as it was learned that the ship had safely made her harbor, and that Lieut. Bull died of pneumonia while on the sea en route for France. His body was brought back to this country. He was married to Miss Margaret Walker of Fair Haven only one week before he sailed. The funeral and burial took place in Fair Haven.

The baby was born April 4, after his father had become attached to General Pershing's command in France, and on June 3 the baby's grandmother, Mrs. C. W. Foye of Rutland, received a letter from the headquarters of the American expeditionary force in France, enclosing a small envelope addressed to "Master Pershing Leonard Foye." ## Construction vs. Destruction

WANTED IN VERMONT.

Men Willing to Spare a Day a Week to Aid Farmers in Harvesting.

Clergymen, judges, lawyers, doctors, merchants, clerks, in fact everyone, even though he can spare only one day each week of one hour each day, to help the farmers harvest their crops the present season.

If favorable weather conditions continue, this year will prove a record breaker for food production in this state. It is only the harvested crop, however, that adds to the world's food supply.

Many of our young men have gone to the trenches, the training camps, the shipyards, etc., since the last harvest time. It is absolutely impossible to fill their places with men from outside of the state, because labor conditions are the same everywhere. We must rely upon our own people to supply this shortage in farm labor, and we can supply it, without hardship to any individual, if everyone will do their share.

Thousands of women in England, France and Italy are now performing farm labor. They are doing it to help win our war, to help protect our women from the awful horrors of kaiserism. If our men will do their duty, it will not be necessary for the women in this country to do any considerable amount of farm work this year. Do not wait to be drafted for this work, but enlist cheerfully and in dead earnest, the first opportunity that you have.

A canvass will be made of the larger towns and cities in the state to ascertain how many men will aid in this work, and what days in the week, or hours in the day, those men can be counted upon to help. This information will be furnished the farmers, and through the assistance of the canvasser, employment will be found for every man who is willing to work. An attempt will also be made by the canvasser to get something in every community where help is available, to transport such help to and from the place of employment by automobile. This will be a convenient and time-saving method for both employer and employee.

The farmers will gladly pay you all that your services are worth. You are not entitled to more. If you do not get anything, your sacrifice would be small compared with the sacrifice the boys in the trenches are making. Congress has been asked to enact a law to compel every man to work who will not fight.
